Diamond Media Group Launches New Corporate Website

Diamond Media Group is pleased to announce the launch of its new corporate website, providing audiences, media organisations and industry partners with a central destination for company news, project information and official media resources.

The website showcases the company's growing portfolio of film, television, tourism and digital media initiatives while offering journalists convenient access to official announcements and press releases.

Featured projects include The Pensioner Gang Movie, Ava Cherry and Travel Radio Australia, with additional productions to be announced as development progresses.
